

Combined Counties Football League

By John Aitken

Combined Counties Football League

It was founded in 1922 as the Surrey Senior League and was renamed in 1978 to the Combined Counties League. Initially, the league was a single division, but it consists now of 64 teams in three divisions: Premier Division North, Premier Division South and Division One.

The Premier Divisions North and South are two of sixteen recognised leagues to form the ninth level of the English football league system (known as Step 5 of the National League System), and Division One is one of twenty four teams recognised leagues at level 10 (known as Step 6 of the National League System). The Combined Counties Football League is a feeder to the Isthmian League and the Southern League or are relegated from Division One to the Middlesex County League, Surrey Elite League or Thames Valley Football League Premier Division.
